Brett Gliddon

The New Zealand Transport Agency is a Crown entity. The purpose of the organisation is to allow great journeys to keep New Zealand moving.

Brett Gliddon has been with the New Zealand Transport Agency for the past 17 years. In this time he has worked in the Highway and Network Operations Division and now the System Design and Delivery Group, responsible for providing, improving and maintaining an integrated land transport system to effectively enable transport services.

Brett is a qualified Civil Engineer and has been involved in the development of some of New Zealand's largest projects including the $70M Grafton Gully motorway upgrade project, the $200M Northern Busway project, the $360M Northern Gateway Toll Road project, the $1.3B Puhoi to Wellsford project and the $1.4B Waterview Tunnel project.

Brett moved into a newly created role of Senior Manager System Design in July 2017 and is responsible for the design and development of integrated transport system with our partners across the entire transport system.
